

Progress Report – CS 410 Project

After search for courses that could be use in this project and could fit in two criteria open free courses where the material, books, are also free and video. It will be use the following course as data test :

<https://ocw.mit.edu/courses/sloan-school-of-management/15-031j-energy-decisions-markets-and-policies-spring-2012/index.htm>

The course has the video and video transcriptions and the material, a great set of articles, are free and can be used for the formation of the data set.

The difficult of the task was to find the course were free content and free book material.

The next step is finished the datasets to be used to test the similarity of the videos and the book material.